

CALL FOR PAPERS
REVISTA ESPAÇO ABERTO – PPGG/UFRJ
Volume 2019(2)

New and Persistent Issues in Latin American Geography

The journal Espaço Aberto of the Post-graduate Programme in Geography of the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro invites researchers who use a geographical perspective on themes concerning Latin America to submit manuscripts for evaluation in a special issue to be published in the second semester of 2019. Submissions should highlight new territorial arrangements or persisting ones that are still fundamental for understanding socio-spatial dynamics in the region.

Geographical studies developed in research centres based in the twenty countries of what is usually called Latin America present a variety of theoretical approaches and themes treated. However, if on one hand researchers from these countries share a number of spatial issues, on the other, more exchange is needed for a better understanding of these phenomena.

With the aim of improving exchange between researchers on Latin America the journal Espaço Aberto encourages specialists on contemporary issues of spatiality in the region to submit to the special issue on “New and Persistent Issues in Latin American Geography”

Norms for submission are available on the web page of the journal. The deadline for the special issue is 30 August, 2019. The journal also receives manuscripts on a revolving basis concerning a variety of themes and approaches as expressed on the journal webpage. Submissions are accepted in Portuguese, Spanish and English.
